

Messages

TOM
How are you ...

John Moi, ...

Mike
Hi, ...

The profile pictures

Click on the picture can enter the personal detail page

Message content panel

Unread message

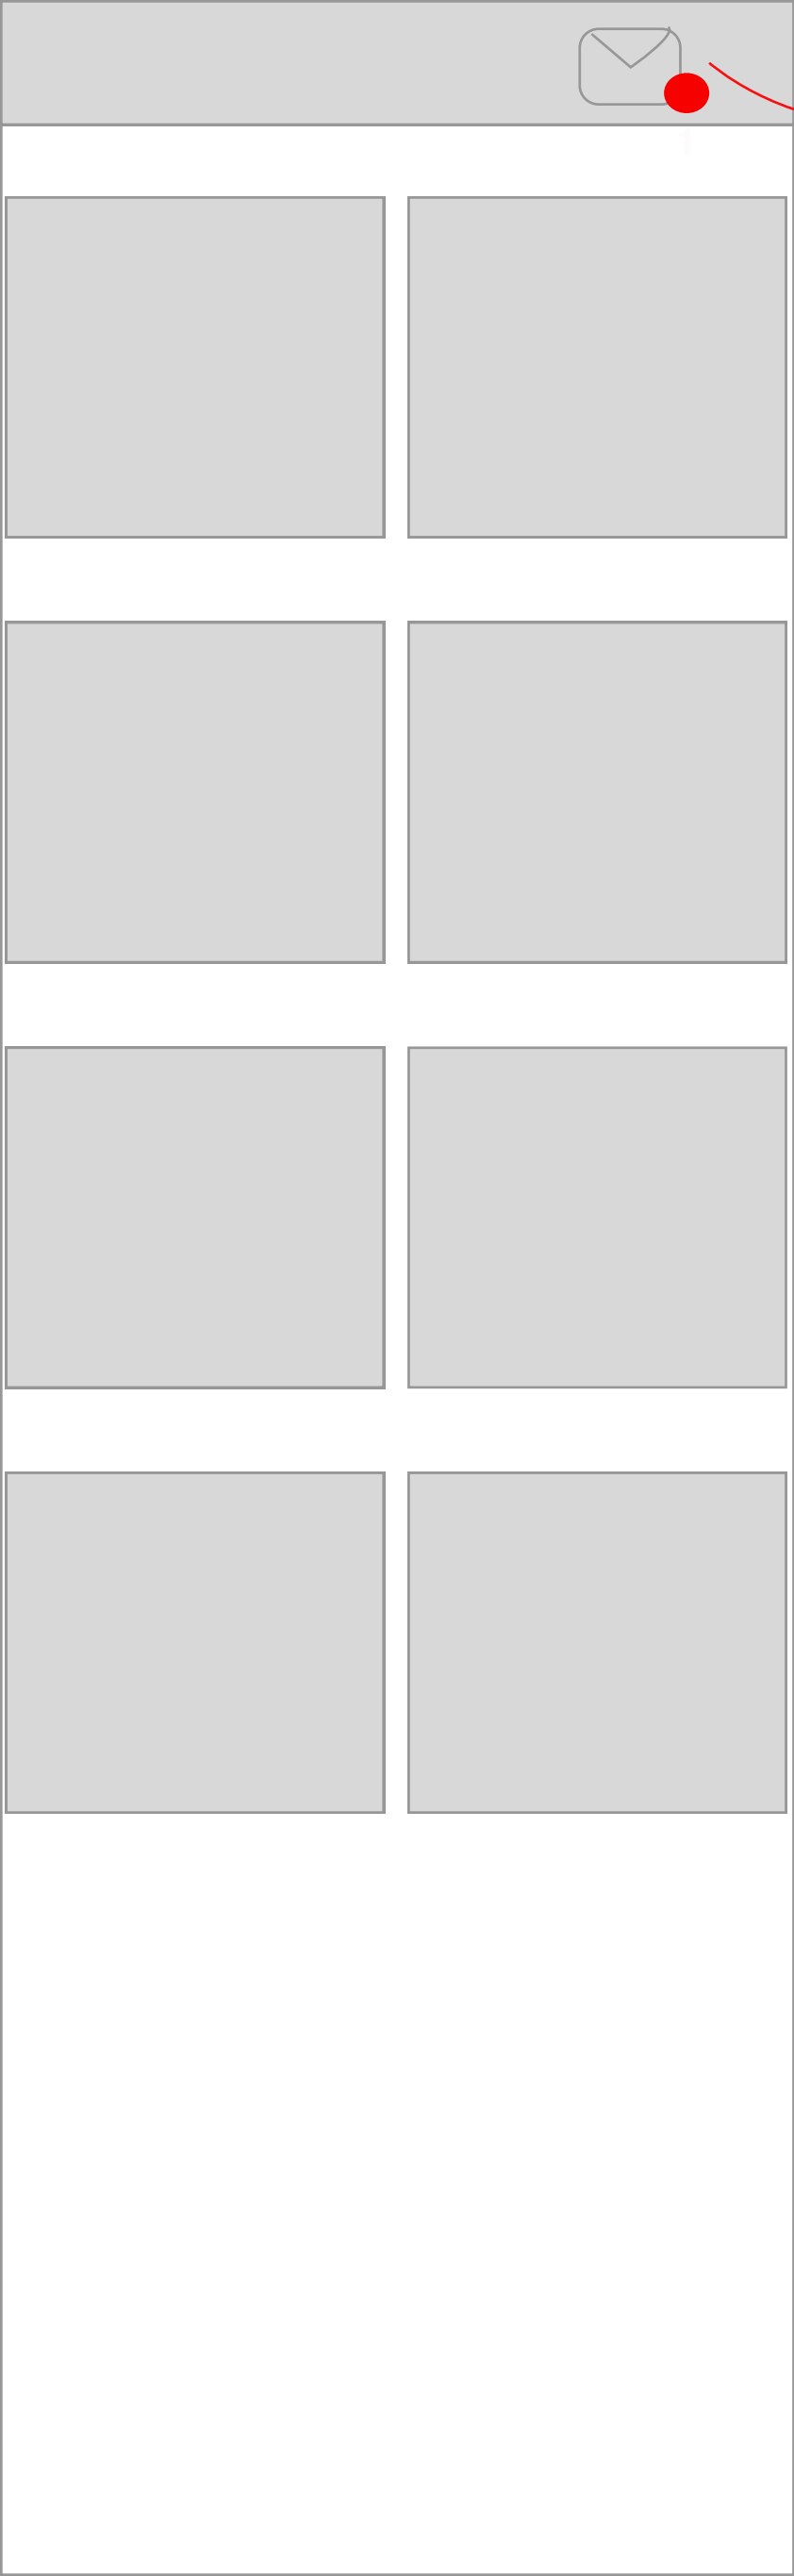

Font: bold

The newest recieved
message is at the top

Sender's name

First line of message

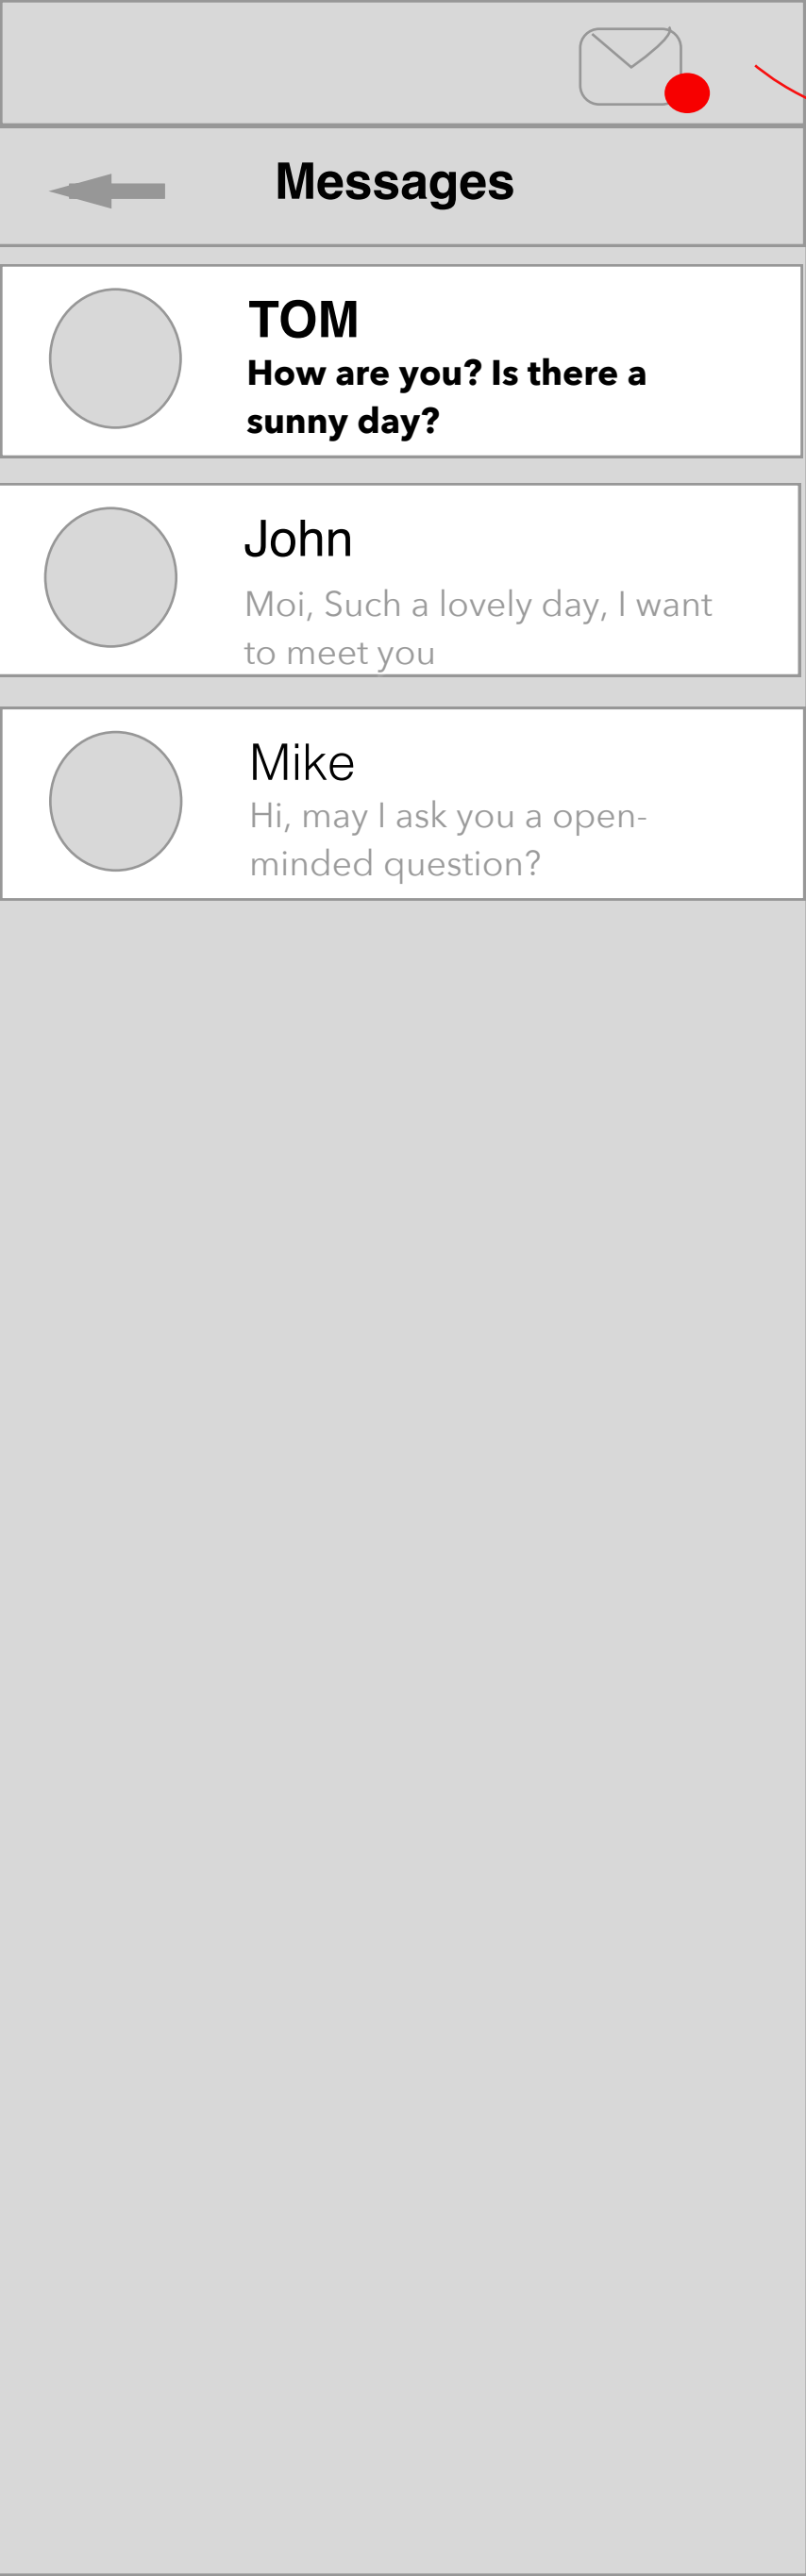

Sender's profile picture

In a small screen, the messate content panel disappears.

An message icon is shown in the navigation bar,

The red dot indicates there are one or more unread messages

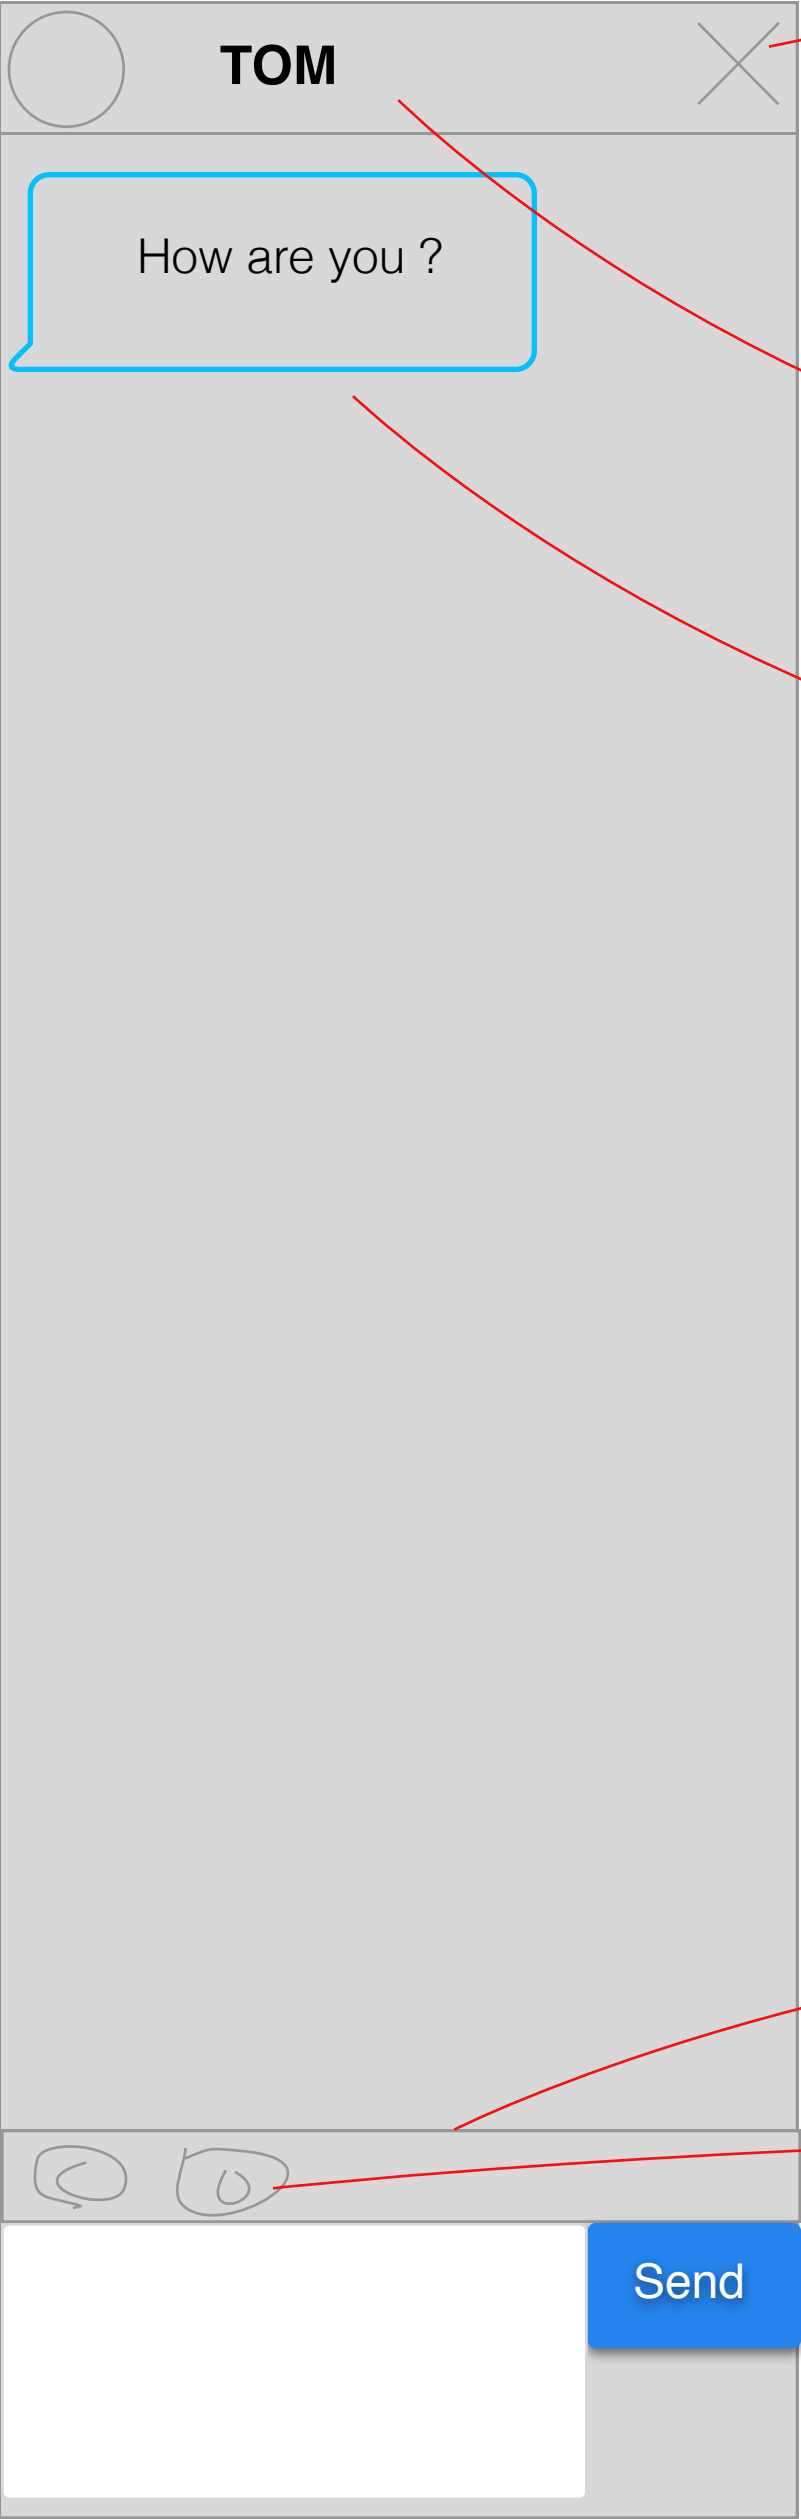

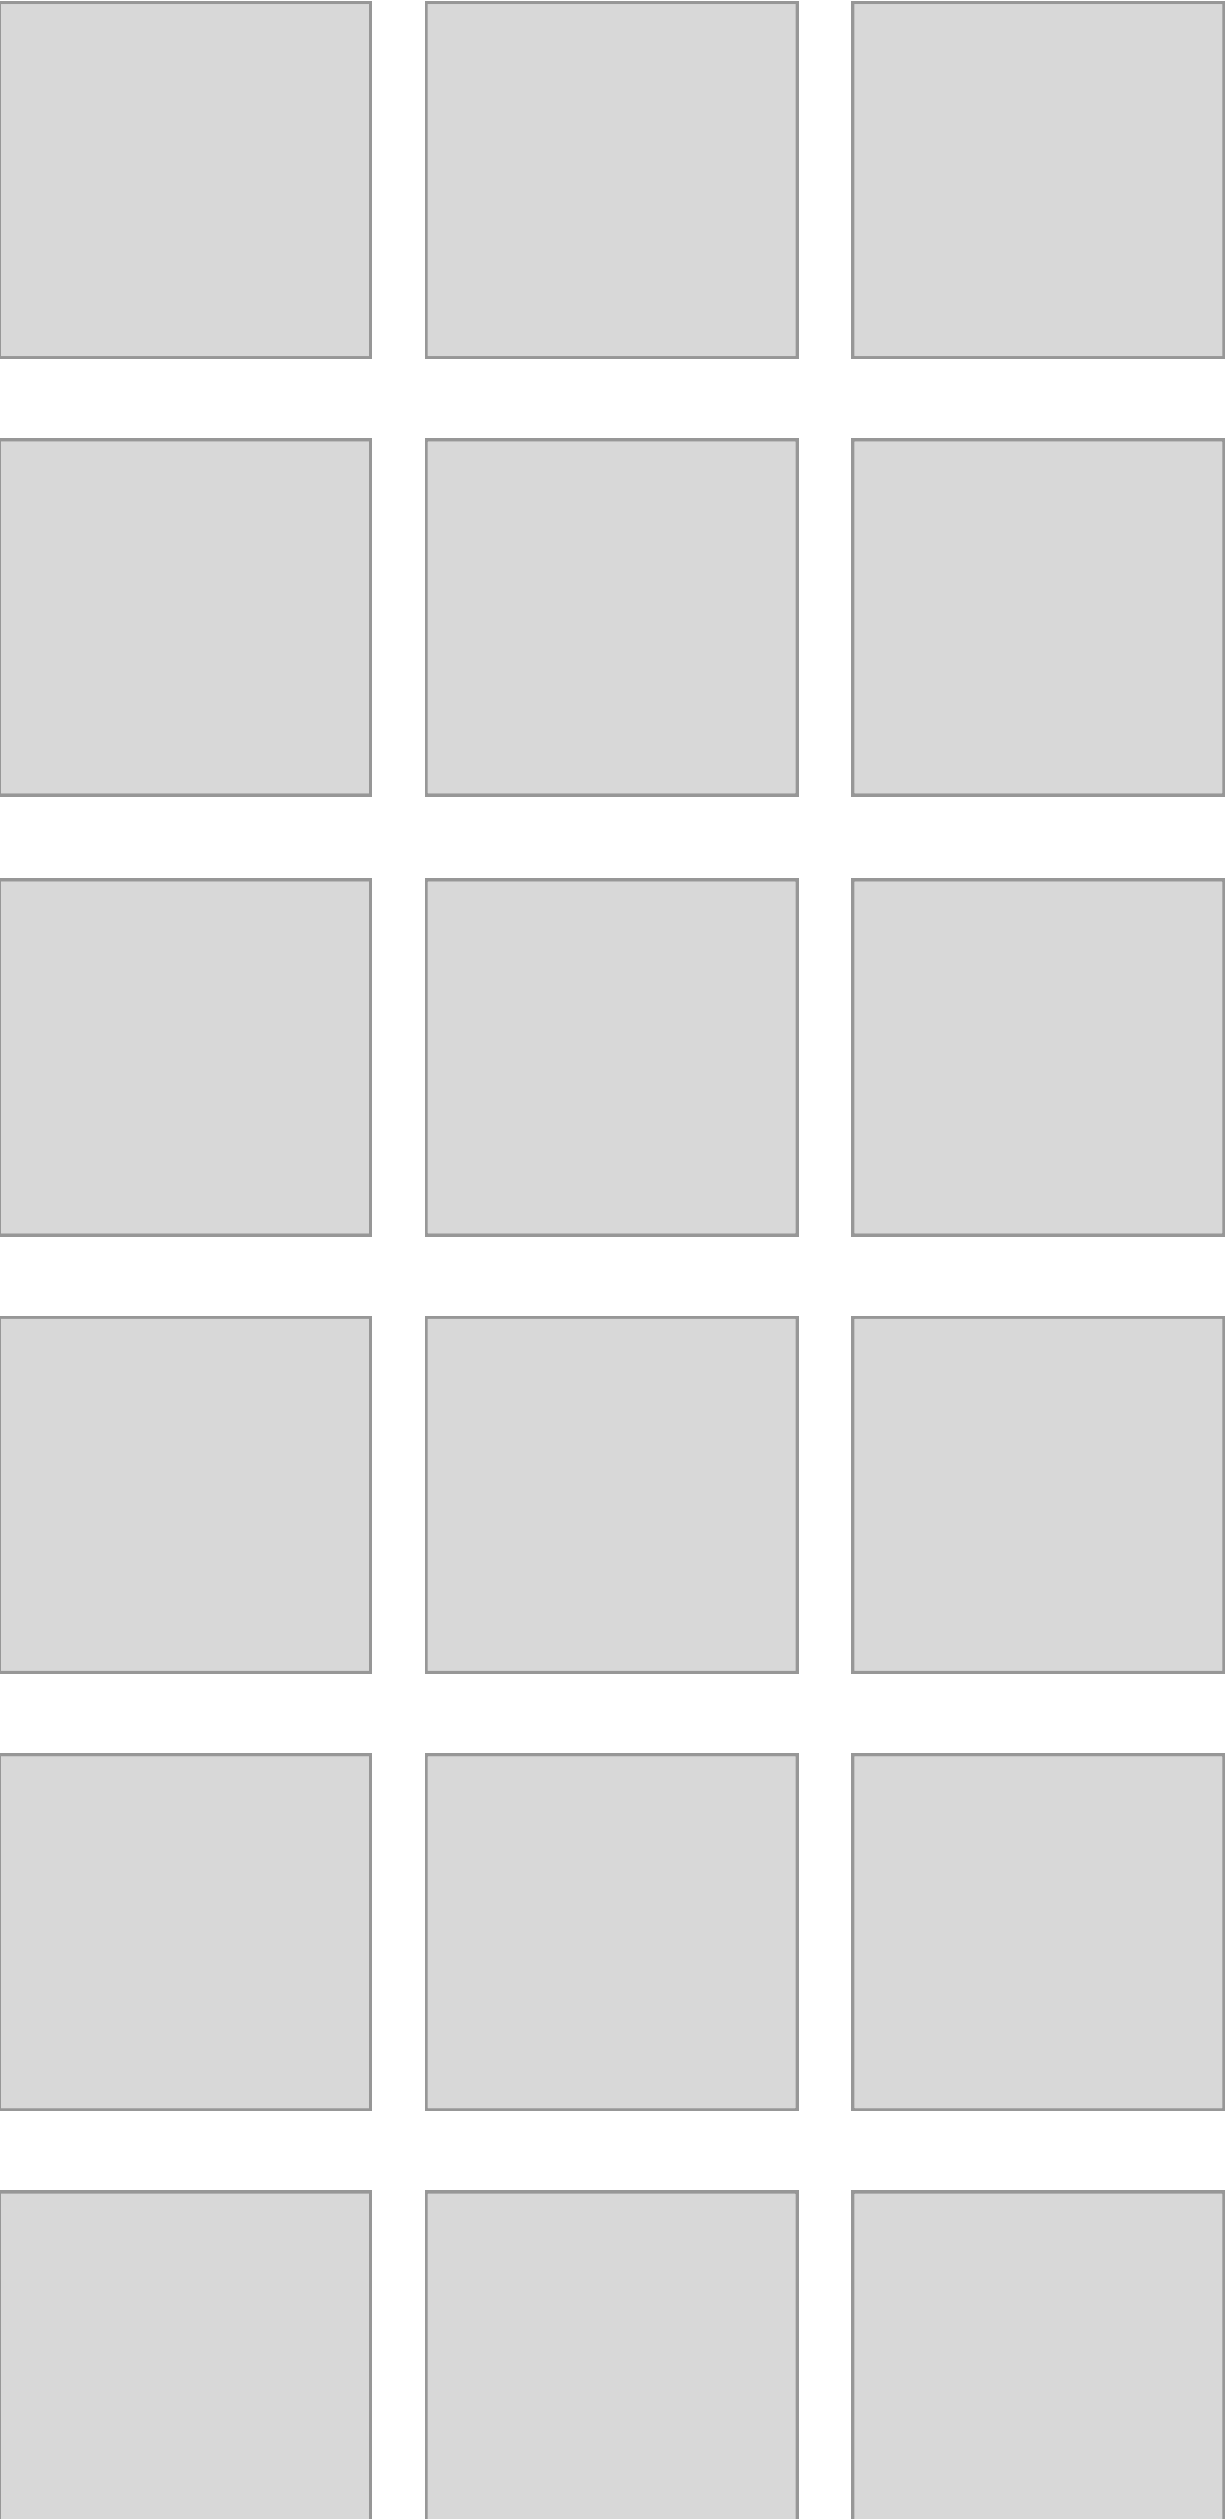

Click on the messate icon to open the Message content panel.

Messages are displayed in the same order as in the desktop UI.

There are more space in each message field so it can show more text.

Maximum two line of text

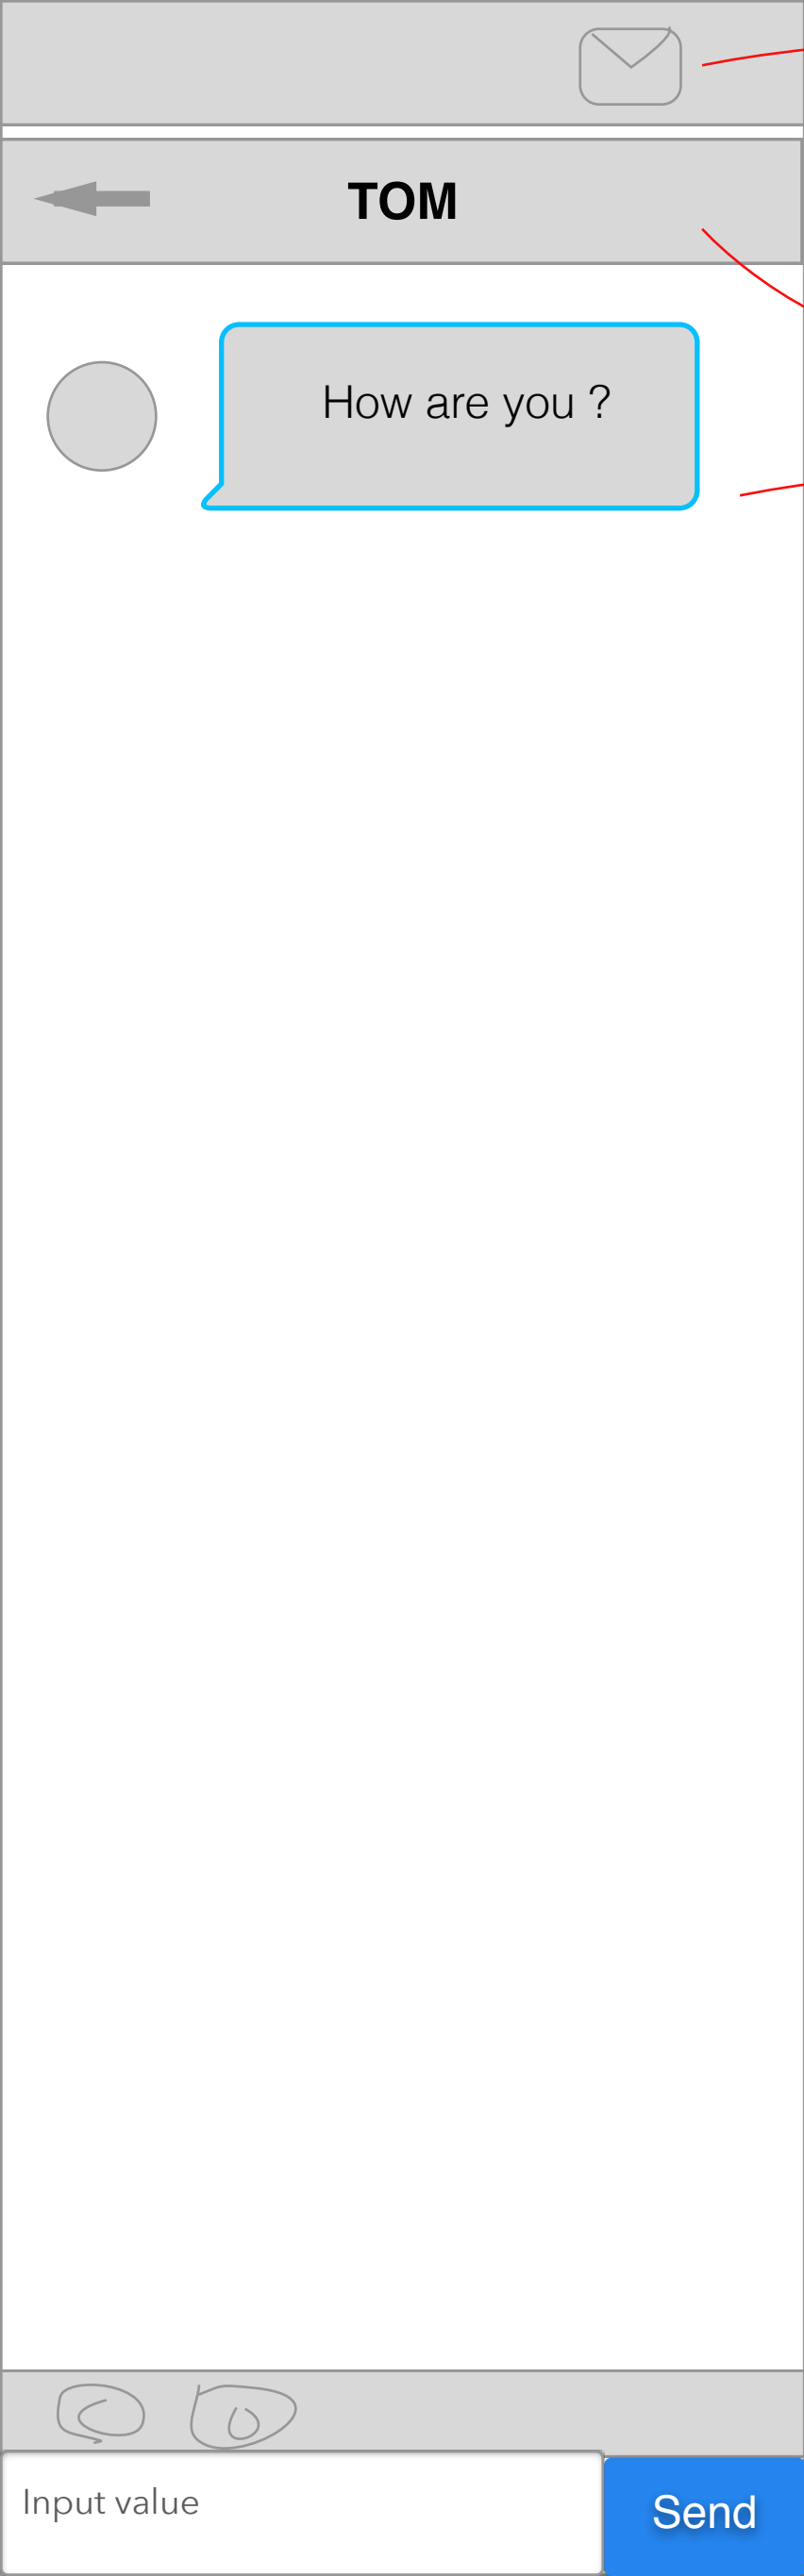

Close button to close the Message Thread Panel

Click on the message item to open the message thread panel

Message sender's Name and profile picture

Message Input field

Buttons reserved for attachments that can be added to the message

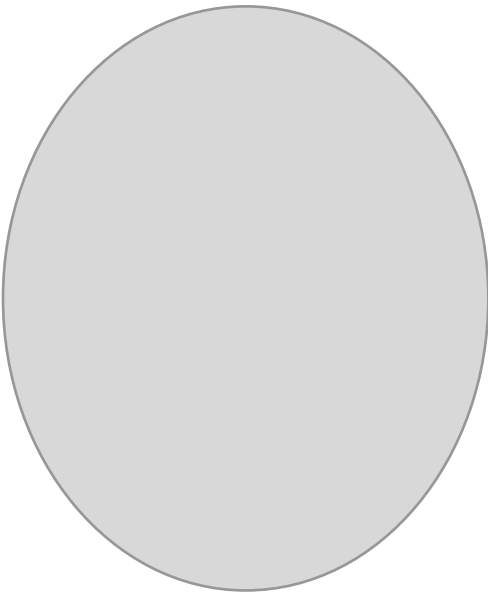

Click on the message icon to open the Message Thread Panel.

The red dot disappears

Message Thread Panel

Messages are displayed in the same order as in the desktop version

Name: Sam

Age:

Brief:

Send Message button

1. Click on the button to open Message Thread Panel

Something

Something

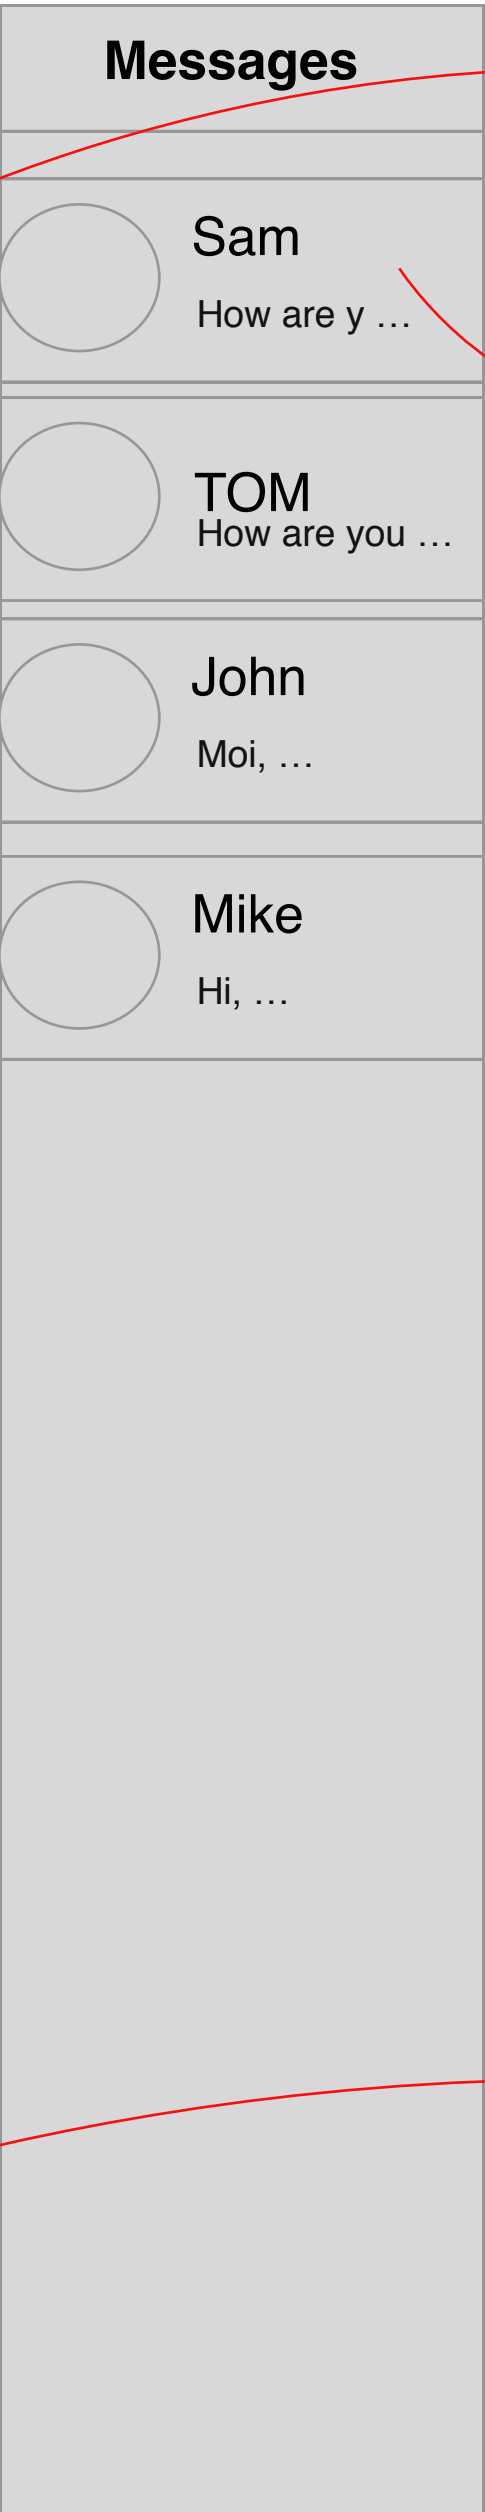

Something

Something
Something

Something

Something

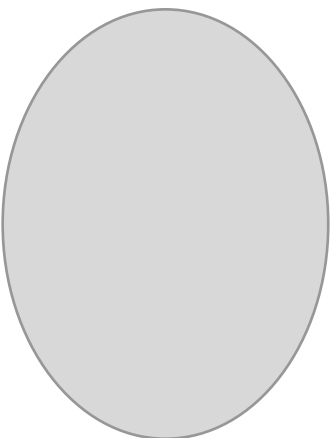

Something

3. Message appears in the Message thread panel, and displayed as sent message

4. The Message receiver also appears in the Message Content Panel

2. Type in the Message Input field then click send button

Name: Sam

Age:

Brief:

Send a message

Something

Something

Something

Something
Something

Something

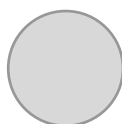

Something

Something

Sam

How are you ?

Input value

Send